Ten close of the war and the gradual mettling down, to serious New Albany, Ind., Commercial, has put new life and metal into the heels of enterprise, and the Rip Van Winkle sleep into which the arts and manufactures had fallen, has been completely hroken by the new order of things. No place that we know of in the entire west has awakened from this manufacturing lethergy in a see bright and pleasan ringed than New Albany. The sound of the hammer and the at ring forth with redoubled vigor, and along the river bank we hear them than dering of the iron-mills and may chine-shops, their grim arms and monster jaws clattering away for dear life, as if making a stir in the world depended upon a noise in the shop, and he whe could

ORIGIN OF POLITICAL TERMS .- The terms "Whig" and "Tory" were known in the reign of Charles II. Some writers derive the word "Whig" from "whaig," the Scotch for "whey" name applied to bandits and drovers 1. and Tory for "foory" (Irish), applied to beggars and outlaws. Others say that Whig is formed from the motto of the Puritans; 'We hope in God," and "Tory" from a "Tar-a-ri," pronounced.
Tory, and meaning "Come, O King"—an exclamation much used by the Irish adherents of Charles II. The word " Radical" srose about the year 1818, and "Conservative" about 1830.

But it has seldom fallen to our lot to publicly tilogise one more worthy than min boutre Sister Territory, Idahe prendly chims as her Goverhe. Por about one year past, the Roserable Caleb Lyons of Lons lale' has filled the gubernatorial bair of Iduho, and though, for fical reasons, the inhabitants of one purt of the Territory have pronounced against his effort to have the nest of Government esablished at Boise City, the cenfral part of Idaho, instead of at Lewiston one of its northern settlemonts he has been generally esteemed both for his urbanity of disposition as a man, and his official career as the executive of our thriving neighbor. His course has been sustained by the President, and he returns to Idaho with increased responsibility and extended powers, as the result of the President's approval. The Indian title to 73,000,000 acres of land has been extinguished by his efforts, and he is fully empowered to make such treaties with the aborigines as shall seeme their consent to the annulling of their title, to choose reservations for them, and to associate with himself, whomsoever his judgment and experience may lead him to select as commissioners to attend to their settle-

The running after the strange al and argumentative powers to be son of Solomon's reign, after a glorious of no mean order. We are re-minded of this fact in reading a whose unjust acts was the scourge of speech delivered by him in Congress on the 4th of May, 1854, on the Ut th question, which we republish to-day, not only as a fitting tribute to its munly author; but as bearing upon the question of polygamy with such force, that its perusal can but result in good to the spiritually, mentally , and physically-enslaved victims of the vice-engendering polygamic hierarchy. It speaks for itself. and therefore needs no commendation from our pen. Its subject matter and intrinsic value induce us to publish it entire, and we cordially invite our readers to "read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest" its wholesome truths. Mr. Chairin in, - This Territorial bill proposes to give, upon certain condi-tions, one bandred and sixty acres of land to every single man, and three bundred and twenty to every married man.

"provided further, that the benefits of this act shall not extend to any person who shall now, or at any time hereufter, be the husband of more than one wife." Against the striking out of this proviso 1 most carnestly protest. This subject is too lightly considered, I fear, by this enquence as a precedent makes it needful that our investigations should be thorough, worths of Christian statesmen and Christian lawgivers: I would appeal to the hearty patriotism of every nember present, educated, as they have been, in the principles of the Pilgrim fa-thers, Cavaliers, and the Hugenots—the descendants of men who fled from profilgod like gallantry of Stahrenberg, they might have swept on to the E be and gate, Ithicknous, and licentious courts to entry a virtuous quiet in the unbroken wilderness of the West—if they are willing to see this Government disgrace it-self by expressed or implied legislation, in any way sanctioning the practice of Boabdil el Chico by his heroic mother on his weakness at the surrender of his polygamy in this country. Its enormity as weine has been made the subject of stringent statutes in every state in the Confedence. It is realism to be paid, in fertile lands, for the debuiching of our daughters and the deluding of our wivest to this Congress so weak as basely to stoop to such a purpose, reversity DD De Charlested associations and the transfer of our childhood? Let us look for a moment to those countries where polygamy exists - to the feeble and dismembered empire of the Sultan, at present under the protec-torate of England and France. Women, according to the Koran, have no imappetite, ministering to the most inflammable passions of our nature. The bitter understood its degredation of woman, its brutalization of man. The innocent oning creatures who seek Constantine ple, and other cities of the Orient, look upon it as deatiny; and bear their lot, prisoned by murble walls, amid the splendid misery of hanging gardens, aparkling fountains, radiant flowers, breathing perfumes, with sad and breaking bearts; and. sir. do you think things saints in the Mormondom of Utab? No, sir: just as bad. Amid the justices of a plurality of wives the repect of parental authority is lost; the gentleness of fireside instruction and feirthstone memories is destroyed. ensues : infanticide follows as a matter of course as soon as the bushand fods he is getting more children than be can support. Sir, buman nature is just the same in every land. Do you think Abdal Medjid, with three hundred and seventy wives has been the father of only five children? It is impossible (Applause and laughter.) The bodies dead infants float in the sapphire tide of the Bosphorus, and the Light of many a harem, from the destruction of offspring, has been lost among the dark shadows of the cypress of Scutari. There is not a drug shop in an Oriental the new born. And, being warned of these things, let us not fix this plaguespot upon the route to the golden-gate of the Pacific, the western pathway of empire. Posterity, sir, will anathema-tize this kind of legislation to the latest years of the Republic. We all shall lie, cramble to dast, our names will be lost to oblivion, but the principle we establish by implication, as the ghost of Hamlet's father, will evidence against us when we have passed away.
